

THE FIERCE ARCHETYPES

The Sovereign Queen is a beacon of integrity, humility, and mastery. She lets her soul lead, lives from wholeness and has a magnificent presence that reminds us to honor intuitive guidance and inner knowing. Through spiritual and emotional maturity she expertly navigates pain, suffering, grief, guilt, shame, and anger. Her wisdom, perception, and mental strength combined with devotion and determination help you move through challenges and obstacles with grace. She is more interested in love than perfection, allows herself to be supported, and stays focused on expansion, evolution, and liberation for a more beautiful world. A compassionate leader, she is the one to reach for when you need the capacity to cut through limitations, restrictions, self-sabotage, apathy, boredom, or isolation and embrace community. She exemplifies harmonious giving and receiving, and shows you how to effectively collaborate with others. She is [Divine] prosperity personified, guiding you towards a fulfilling, connected, and meaningful life from the inside out.

The Warrior Goddess shows us how to transmute our holy rage into powerful, transformative, and revolutionary action. A dedicated agent for change, she teaches you how to use your gifts and talents effectively, through practice, skill, and consistency, so that you can both stay in the fight and take care of yourself so you don't have to burn out. She is a champion of bold dreams and visions, aligning you with higher-good and purpose. Always reminding you that you are not here to play a small role in life, she is a bringer of faith, Divine order, and fearless thinking. No challenge or conflict is too great for the Warrior Goddess. Her medicine helps you overcome internal and external battles using weapons of words, energy, prayer, focus, attention, wisdom, and right action. Highly skilled, strategic, and discerning with her energy, she is the embodiment of fierce love, justice, courage, and loyalty. She is victory personified, helping you find the resources and cultivate the strength and capacity you need to succeed in your highest, most passion-filled callings.

THE MYSTICAL ARCHETYPES

The Medicine Woman sees wisdom in everything. A mystic, an alchemist, a healer, and a shapeshifter, she reminds us of the sacredness in all of Life. She helps you to activate your psychic senses, hone your abilities to perceive the truth beyond what is obvious, and harness the power of your sensitivity. Bringer of fierce love and hope, piquer of holy curiosity, piercer of illusions, wielder of humor and levity, she connects you to the part of yourself that need not abide by the rules and restrictions of the physical world. She is the healing medicine that helps you wade through your shadows and deep emotional waters so that you may become cleansed, unstuck, and fearless in your expression of truth. The wisest of healers, she is the embodiment of paradox, multidimensionality, alignment, and a bridge of worlds. She is transformation personified, helping you to trust yourself, tend to life, and communicate in ways that can be understood by those with eyes to see and ears to hear.

The Sacred Creatress connects us to the mystical energy within all of us that reminds us we are in this world but not of it. She knows that beauty and creativity heal and she helps you find your voice, express yourself, and hone in on sacred patterns and details untrained eyes and ears often miss. She is the master crafter and connector of signs, symbols, and meaning. A consummate wild dreamer, she is the healing medicine to reach for when you need to step out of your comfort zone, take a risk, access your soul's visions, and allow yourself [or your creations] to be seen in a new light. A translator of deep feeling, insight, and mystery, she is the embodiment of resourcefulness, artistry, and originality. Helping you to bring your passion to life, she is the one who will infuse your path with appreciation for nature, beauty, and sensual delight.

THE LOVING ARCHETYPES

The Erotic Priestess reminds us that the sacred body is our connection to Life itself. She is the loving gaze inward, the seer of love in all things, the overflowing cup to drink from when you need to come home to yourself and tend to your deepest needs. Embodiment is her healing medicine, connecting you directly to your soul through practice and devotion. She cannot be gaslit or manipulated and is unwilling to be subservient. She is the gateway for integrating spirituality, sensuality, and sexuality in the holiest of ways so that you may experience the joy, pleasure, and fulfillment of your WHOLE existence. A woman unto herself, she is the embodiment of self love, guiding you to fortify your healing, progress, and expansion through the lens of reverence, respect, and Divine Union with the Great Beloved. She is love personified, helping you to dissolve shame, guilt, and any old ways of self-sacrifice or abandonment.

The Divine Mother is the mother of all, soothing our hearts, easing our suffering, and reminding us that we are inherently worthy of love, care, and nourishment. She helps you release scarcity and fear while replenishing your faith in peace, inner wisdom, and abundance. She is generosity without sacrifice. She connects you to the purest love and strength so you can heal from every form of over-functioning and over-extending. She is the healing medicine helping you to release negative self-talk, perfectionism, people-pleasing, and low self-esteem. The kind and devoted mother we all need, she is the embodiment of compassion, gentleness, and unconditional love. She is grace personified, helping you to receive blessings and reciprocate as your heart desires and creative and energetic capacity allows. Through her, we remember to honor the Earth and all of its inhabitants, while respecting Nature as a wise teacher.
